The study of interpersonal communication patterns, especially intercultural ones in a labour environment, challenges the very structure of classical methodologies ingrained within their respective disciplinary boundaries. Specific topics covered include establishing positive relationships between students and school librarians; characteristics of students in different grade levels; techniques that librarians can use for effectively managing students in the school library; ways to relate with diverse students, including students with special needs; managing students as they utilize technology in library settings; and designing a school library environment to avoid potential discipline problems.
